Here and There

Editorial By ALEX. H. WASHBURN

JAPAN is once more in the world news this spring (I told the Hope Rotary club Friday noon). Americans generally are told that the Japanese action in the Orient, invading one Chinese province after another and threatening war on the west with Soviet Russia, is an entirely immoral action. But the voice of Japan has never been fully heard in the United States. And I am here going to present, without comment, the official spokesman of Japan, who says that the crisis in Asia springs out of money and not morals.

Farm's Electric Bill Passes Senate and Goes to House

420-Million-Dollar Norris Measure Beats Down Opposition

TEN-YEAR PROGRAM

Allows Federal Electric Loans to States and Rural Communities

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Despite warnings by Senator King, Democrat, Utah, that the nation was "rushing madly into consolidation of all power in the federal government," the senate Thursday passed the $420,000,000 Norris rural electrification bill and sent it to the house.

King presented a substitute to reduce the expenditures to $100,000,000 a year for 10 years, but said as he argued that his case was "futile."

At a White House conference, earlier in the week Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, author of the bill, agreed to scale the 10-year program from $100,000,000 a year for 10 years to $420,000,000 for the first two years and $40,000,000 for the remaining eight years.

Norris agreed to one of King's demands by reducing from 4 to 25 years the maximum life of loans for rural power projects.

The bill would establish a new rural electrification administration and empower it to lend to states, rural communities, utility districts, farm co-operatives, or limited dividend corporations to install and operate generating and distributing systems where none now exist.

"To provide a market for the power, farmers would be financed in purchasing and installing household and farm electrical equipment. Their loans would be repayable over a five-year period, or a period equal to two-thirds the life of the equipment bought."

While the original bill directed that 70 per cent of the annual appropriation be distributed to borrowers among the states in proportion to the number of farms without electricity, the bill revised at the White House conference trimmed this to 50 per cent and gave the administrator authority to apportion the balance at his discretion. Not more than 10 per cent of unallotted annual sums may be employed in any one state.

Buckner Springs Upset, Defeating Texarkana 21-20

Hope Wins Its First Tourney Clash, Beating Columbus by 42 to 13

SIX TEAMS ADVANCE

Emerson, Fouke, Taylor, Mt. Vernon, Other Four Scoring Wins

The Hope High School basketball team, playing its first game Friday morning in the district 10 senior boys tournament, won over Columbus High School, 42 to 13.

Paced by Ramsey, Bobcat center, the locals took an early lead and had but little difficulty in downing their opponents. Ramsey looped the basket for 12 points to win high scoring honors.

Reese, Bright and Turner, with 8 points apiece, tied for second place honors.

The Bobcats will play again Friday night. It was undetermined Friday afternoon what team Hope would meet.

Other teams came through the early rounds of the tournament as expected with the exception of Texarkana, last year's district title holders.

Texarkana upset Buckner High School night in one of the most thrilling games yet played. The two teams battled on even terms throughout the game, Buckner scoring in the last 15 seconds of play to win, 21 to 20.

The defeat eliminated Texarkana from the championship race. Provided the Bobcats win at the rest of their games, their only hope would be for the runner-up position.

Beside the advance for Buckner Thursday night, Emerson, Fouke, Taylor and Mt. Vernon moved toward the semi-finals.

In Friday morning's session Mineral Springs handed Magnolia a 31 to 24 lacing.

Gilliam showed much potential in walloping Bright Star, 46 to 9.

Central High School came through with a surprise victory over Stamps, 24 to 17.

Results of the games up to 2 p. m. Friday:

Thursday Night
Fouke 29, Garland City 17.
Mt. Vernon 2, Village 0, forfeit.
Emerson 32, Saratoga 15.
Lewisville 2, Atlanta 0, forfeit.
Buckner 21, Texarkana 20.

Friday Morning

Gilliam 46, Bright Star 9.

Friday Afternoon

Motor Train Hit by Freight Here

Frisco Baggage Car Is Overturned—Conductor Cut and Bruised

Conductor J. W. Cook, of Hugo, Okla., was injured at 6:45 p. m. Thursday when a Missouri Pacific freight train struck the baggage car of a Frisco motor train here where the two lines cross.

Cuts and bruises received by Mr. Cook were not believed to be serious.

The baggage car was knocked from the tracks and overturned on its side. A wrecker from Gordon cleared the wreckage early Friday morning.

In the baggage car with Conductor Cook was C. H. Crowe of Hugo, mail clerk. Crowe jumped from the car and escaped injury.

An unidentified hobo made good connections as the result of the crash. The hobo was standing on the rear of the baggage car but leaped to safety before the car was struck. He immediately caught the north-bound freight and left town.

Railroad officials here declined to place the blame on either railroad, pending investigation.

The Country Doctor

A Novelization of the Twentieth Century-Fox Film, Starring the Dianne Quintuplets With Jean Hersholt, Dorothy Peterson, June Lang, Michael Whalen and Slim Summerville

"But it ain't possible," feebly protested Wyatt. "You can't have that many—all at one time!" "Heat some more bricks!" Dr. Luke told Wyatt crisply.

HERE'S THE SUMMARY OF PRECEDING 10 CHAPTERS

DR. JOHN LUKE, country doctor in the little north woods settlement of Moosetown, goes to Montreal to appeal to company officials to give Moosetown a hospital.

His nephew, TONY, who flew to Moosetown with antitoxin during a diphtheria epidemic, remains there, much interested in MARY MACKENZIE, daughter of the lumber company manager. The two admit their love for each other but Mackenzie, determined to end the romance, forces Tony into a fight, later obliges him to leave Moosetown.

In Montreal Dr. Luke's appeal is refused. He returns to Moosetown, learns young DR. WILSON has been sent to replace him. It is discovered that Dr. Luke has never received a license to practice and he is threatened with arrest.

There seems nothing to do but leave. Dr. Luke goes to the boat, about to depart, when ASA WYATT appears, begging the doctor to come to his home.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XI

Dr. Luke strode off briskly with Asa Wyatt, leaving the others staring after him. Nurse Kennedy made one last effort.

"But doctor, the boat—" "The boat can go to—Montreal!" he returned.

"Then Constable Ogden made his bid. 'You can't do it, Doc! It's—it's ILLEGITIMATE—when you haven't got a license.'"

The doctor turned short. "It is, eh?" he shot back. "Well, don't forget this! You've got seven children yourself—and I didn't have a license for THEM either!"

Jim Ogden gulped. Nurse Kennedy, with a resigned shrug, started to follow the doctor and Wyatt. The three started in the doctor's car on the long rough road that led to the Wyatt's unpeopled and isolated house.

No man was ever more distraught and perplexed than Jim Ogden. He turned to Authority, in the only form in which he knew it—that is, to the Mackenzie living room, where Mary, listening intently, Ogden laid bare his predicament.

"Don't you see, boss? The Doc's my friend!" he pleaded. "Why, he brings all my children into the world." With a gesture toward Mary—"and your own girl, too, don't forget!"

"No, I reckon not—but—" "Are you?"

"Then what more is there to say?" As constable, you will proceed to do your duty." Jim Ogden looked help-

The discussion appears at length in today's editorial column of The Star.

Tree Meeting Is Scheduled 8 p. m.

Battle Between Elm and Crepe Myrtle Advocates Foreseen at City Hall

Detailed plans for the planting of trees and other decorations along highway No. 67, both outside and inside the City of Hope, will be outlined at a mass meeting at 8 o'clock Friday night in the city hall.

The meeting is under direction of the Legion Auxiliary, which has undertaken the task of sponsoring and supervising the beautification work, with the men of the city raising the necessary money.

One hundred of the $300 estimated cost is already pledged, the City of Hope and Hope Star having pledged $50 apiece. The balance is to be raised by a canvass of the 14 local civic organizations, arranged by a committee of three: Fred Gray, Sid Bundy and J. K. Sale.

Among the discussions expected to be held Friday night is one concerning the type of tree most suitable to local planting. At the first public meeting it was voted to accept, tentatively, the recommendation of George W. Ware for elm trees. Some local sentiment has developed for crepe myrtle, however, and advocates of these or other trees will have an opportunity to revise present plans.

Raising of $100 has permitted a call to be made for bids on the supplying of trees, though the actual order may not be placed until next week.

$4,000 in Gambler Fines Is Levied

First Two Defendants Are Convicted by Little Rock Jurors

LITTLE ROCK.—Six Pulaski county gamblers will pay nearly $4,000 in the county treasury in fines and costs as a result of prosecution Thursday in First Division Circuit Court before Judge McGhee, in which two defendants were convicted by jurors.

Convicted were: K. Barney Levine, found guilty of setting up and operating gambling devices at Dante's Inferno roadhouse, on the Arch Street pike, fined $750.

Louis Bernhardt, one of the operators of the roadhouse, found guilty of permitting gambling to be carried on, fined $500.

Levine was among 11 persons indicted on misdemeanor gambling charges by the last grand jury, following a three-day investigation into commercial gambling. Reports current in the courthouse said the jury voted 11-to-1 for a full sentence on several ballots but compromised on a fine.

Shortly after issuance of the White House announcement, word came from Annapolis, Md., that the president's certificate of candidacy for the Democratic nomination already had been filed with Maryland's secretary of state by Herbert R. O'Connor, state attorney general.

TOKYO, Japan.—(AP)—Koki Hiorta's hopes of introducing a new national cabinet to the emperor immediately disappeared Friday when the Army rose to demonstrate that it still is politically powerful enough to wreck any efforts to form a ministry.

The militarists indicated that no general would be permitted to join the ministry unless their terms are met.

Tri-Motor Plane Here on Week-End

Big Ford Ship Will Fly Passengers Over Hope Saturday, Sunday

It was announced Friday by the Hope Auto company that arrangements have been completed to bring one of the large tri-motor Ford planes "The Wanderer" to Hope to fly passengers over the week end. The big plane that is coming to Hope is 76 feet wide, weighs 10,100 pounds and cost $62,500. It flies 16 passengers, and is equipped for day and night flying. The ship will be piloted here by Capt. R. C. Downing, veteran transport pilot, with Leut. Herbert Meek as copilot.

The object behind the tour of this giant plane is to get the general public more air-minded. While here it will be subject to inspection of the general public both day and night.

The very low price of 50 cents per passenger is being charged for flights, and it is expected that a record crowd of Hope citizens will go to the airport to see Hope and the adjacent territory from the air.

The plane has three 220 horsepower J-5 Wright motors, burns 40 gallons of gasoline per hour, has a cruising speed of 120 miles per hour, and flies 16 passengers at a time.

Roosevelt Files in Primary Election

Name Entered in Maryland, Massachusetts and Ohio Campaigns

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—President Roosevelt Thursday night took his first formal step for re-election, signing petitions entering his name in the Maryland, Massachusetts and Ohio presidential preference primaries.

The White House also announced the president would speak at Baltimore April 13 at a meeting to be attended by Young Democrats from Maryland and neighboring states.

The announcement followed one by Carl G. Bachman, chairman of the Borah Campaign Committee, that Senator Borah of Idaho had decided to enter the Nebraska primaries April 14 in his race for the Republican presidential nomination.

Borah already has decided to file in Ohio, whose primary is on May 12, and in Illinois. He also is expected by his friends to have slates of delegate candidates in certain New York districts, in Oregon, Montana, Idaho, Wisconsin, Minnesota and North and South Dakota.

Shortly after issuance of the White House announcement, word came from Annapolis, Md., that the president's certificate of candidacy for the Democratic nomination already had been filed with Maryland's secretary of state by Herbert R. O'Connor, state attorney general.

STORIES IN STAMPS

By I. S. Klein

The Reception of Teru Teru

An unusual bird is the "teru-teru." It is off on a visit to a pair of others of its kind and receives a reception becoming a riddle. Welcoming the visitor with cries and signs of pleasure, the pair strut up to him, stand side by side and a little behind him; then all three march about rapidly, and in step, making a loud drumming sound. Suddenly they stop, the visitor stretches out his wings, and, while he continues his outcries, the other two puff out their plumage and stretch their beaks to the ground. After the three have stayed in these positions for some time, the visitor finally leaves.

This is the quaint bird of Uruguay, called "teru-teru" from the cry it makes; but it really is a Cayenne lapping. Its wide rounded wings enable the bird to wheel about while in flight, and its slow flapping gives it a jerky movement through the air. The bird is a fearless fighter and often will fly even into the face of a man.

Since it is common on the pampas of Uruguay, that country issued a series of stamps in 1923, picturing the bird on 12 values.

12 Million Saving on Bonds Is Seen

Futrell Impressed by Banker's Advice to Refund Again

LITTLE ROCK—(AP)—Governor Futrell said Friday that holders of Arkansas bonds who intended them to be paid at a value higher than par were "wasting their time."

He said the refunding board is without authority to pay more than par and accrued interest.

New Refunding Loans—Possibilities of refunding the ultimate cost of liquidating the state's highway debt by issuing new bonds at a lower interest rate and using the proceeds to call in any bonds at par existing state highway refunding bonds bearing from 4 1/2 to 5 per cent interest, was suggested to the State Refunding Board Thursday in a letter from I. A. Long, vice president of the Mercantile-Commercial Bank & Trust Co. of St. Louis.

Governor Futrell indicated that he was impressed by Mr. Long's suggestion that the state might save more than $2,000,000 by such an indirect refunding program during the life of bonds now bearing more than 4 1/2 per cent interest.

The governor recalled that the 1934 refunding act provides that bonds may be called and paid at par at any semi-annual interest-paying date.

Attorney General Carl E. Bailey said that there is some question as to whether new bonds could be sold without a vote of the people even though Amendment 20 exempts refunding bonds from such a vote.

He said the suggested new issue might be designated properly as refunding bonds, but that such a program could not be carried out without new legislation authorizing issuance of the new type of refunding bonds.

Other members of the Refunding Board could not be reached Thursday as they were noncommittal.

All the state highway and toll bridge bonds, totaling $91,220,000, except one $13,000,000 issue sold in 1928, bear 4 1/2, 4 3/4 and five per cent. The 1928 issue bears 4 1/4 per cent.

Building Service Employees Continue Campaign in New York

By the Associated Press
Strikes continued in nine cities Friday after walkouts of union teamsters in Newburgh, N. Y., and of WPA workers in Bismarck, N. D., had been settled.

The striking building service employees sought to add 4,800 New York buildings to the 1,535 estimated affected by the tieup.

THE COUNTRY DOCTOR

lessly at MacKenzie for a moment, and then shuffled silently out of the room.

Jolting and bumping over the dark, narrow road, nurse, doctor and anxious father soon reached the Wyatt house, where a light gleamed from the window. Unhooking the gate, they passed through and were met by the eldest Wyatt boy.

"Ma's gone to bed," he announced. The party filed silently into the Wyatt house, which was little more than a single room with rough board floor. An alcove was closed off by curtains, none too clean. Dr. Luke went immediately into this alcove. Nurse Kennedy, all business, began to prepare for eventualities.

"All right, Father Goose," she snapped at Asa. "Let's get busy. Get that fire built up. And get those kids over to a neighbor's. Not that I ought to have to tell YOU what to do," she added ironically.

As Asa Wyatt fluttered uncertainly, fetching an armful of wood, shaking children out from under foot, Dr. Luke emerged abruptly from the curtained alcove. He nodded briefly to Nurse Kennedy and began to roll up his sleeves to wash his hands at a washstand in the corner.

"All right, Asa, get 'em out," said Nurse Kennedy crisply.

Asa obediently began herding his six youngsters together. He had gotten the flock as far as the gate, on the way to the Jessups', just over the rise on the same road, when another car drove up to his front gate and Constable Ogden piled out.

"I ain't after me, are yuh, Jim?" asked Asa, apprehensively. "I ain't done nothin'."

"No?" queried the morose Ogden, with a meaning glance toward the lighted window. "Well, I hear different." And he strode on toward the house, leaving Asa agape.

Constable Ogden walked into the Wyatt house and into the very midst of hurried preparations for the expected event. With some vague idea of protecting his friend, he began a protest. "Listen, Doc—" he said, plaintively.

"Got no time to argue with you now," snapped the doctor. "I've got a very sick woman in there. Be more to the point if you'd grab an armful of wood out there and bring it in."

"But, Doc," protested the constable weakly. "Don't you realize that if you go on with this it'll be a crime? I'll have to arrest you!"

"All right, Jim," said the doctor, shortly. "Got to give me time to commit the crime first, though, don't you?" And the doctor disappeared once more behind the curtains of the alcove.

Asa Wyatt came back in with an armful of wood, stoked the stove, and laid down heavily. He and the constable looked at one another across the wooden table. Both were acutely miserable. Asa, despite his extensive
